BOSTON

WHALER 380

The Boston Whaler 380 Outrage has a 23-degree deadrise at the transom, near the max available in production boats, and this results in an exceptional ride offshore.

With her quadruple Mercury Verado 300hp and her new hull design, this unit performs flawlessly, reaching a top speed of 48 knots.

The breaker panel is located just at the entry of the cabin. The cabin is large enough to house two overnights in comfort.

The center console has a very angular and modern design allowing entrance to the cabin on the left of the helm. The 3 helm seats provide individual armrests and bolsters for more comfort and a refrigerated drawer on the side. Behind is a wet bar welcoming a BBQ, sink and double fridge.

In the center of the deck is a mechanical room with storage for the cockpit table. To both sides of the 4,18 m2 cockpit are huge refrigerated and macerated fishing boxes, a fold out bench and removable table.

The forward V-seating easily converts to forward-facing seating. With the table lowered a forward sun pad is created. Just behind is a large doublewide lounge with armrests and beverage holders.
